WALLINGFORD.

Meriden seems bound not to be outdone by Wallingford. A few weeks ago we had a phenomenal sensational public meeting in town hall and since that time our neighbors in Meriden have been getting into gear in the endeavor to equal, and go one better, and now they have succeeded, or partly so, for Tuesday evening in the Silver City there was a decidedly sensational meeting in town hall that far exceeded in numbers at least the one held here and in rioting and disorder far exceeded the example set by the borough. The futile attempt, after the Meriden meeting was adjourned, to hold an indignation meeting, after the example set here, was a dismal failure, as three men on a table failed to get any sort of order into the mob and of course there could not be any third, or mass meeting, held the same evening, so Meriden is still in the rear as far as public meetings are concerned, but as they are to try again next week they may possibly equal Wallingford's shining example.

Officer Dan Reilly found one of the lodgers in the tramp room Tuesday night had a rather large bundle and as it looked suspicious the officer examined its contents and a spring overcoat, collars, stockings, and other articles almost new were found. The man, who gave his name as Smith, claimed the goods were given to him by a student in New Haven. The coat was several sizes too large for the man. The officer telephoned to the chief of police in New Haven the facts of the case and received word to hold the man. Detective Gibson came up here yesterday morning and took the suspected thief to New Haven.

Up to early last evening there had been no definite clue received as to the whereabouts of N. F. Ingraham's stolen trotter Belle. After leaving Stamford all trace of the horse thief seemed to be lost for a time. Yesterday Ingraham was in Yonkers, N. Y., and sent a letter from there home and later was at the Atlantic hotel in New York, where he said he should stay until the last gun was fired. Deputy Sheriff W. A. Booth started for New York last evening to take in the horse sale and will join Ingraham probably before he returns home.

Superintendent Buckingham reports that six of the inmates of the Masonic home are ill, but none very seriously. The principal trouble is probably due to too much food and too little exercise.

The advance sale of seats for Hoyt's "A Contented Woman" promises to be the largest on record. It is seldom that Wallingford gets such a popular company, with the handsome lady on the American stage in its opera house and it is safe to say that there will be but few empty seats on Saturday evening.

Bart Pagan came back yesterday from the Soldiers' home in Noroton after a stay of less than a week. His early return causes no surprise to those who know him best, as it is believed that he would never be contented anywhere if he thought anyone wanted him to stay there.

Rev. W. W. Peck will conduct services at the Masonic home Sunday. Skating is reported as good on Simpson's pond.

Entertainment by the ladies of St. Paul's guild in the opera house this evening.

The New Britain champions were too lively for Company K's team at basketball ball and won the game by a score of 11 to 3.

The ice company will begin to-day filling the new ice house at Wooding's pond.

The two boys, Walter and Fred, of Mrs. Emma Allen, were taken to the County home to remain until they are sixteen years of age.

There was no improvement in the condition of Mrs. B. A. Treat reported last evening and her condition was considered extremely critical.

It is now practically decided that the Arcanum club will stay in its present quarters in Simpson's block instead of changing into F. A. Wallace's block on the opposite corner, as was voted to do several weeks ago. The present quarters will at some future date be enlarged.

FOR BIENNIAL ELECTIONS.

A Large Majority in the Massachusetts House.

Boston, Feb. 12.—The house vote on biennial elections was 175 yeas to 54 nays, or much more than the required two-thirds. The vote was nearly on party lines. If this vote is held together for the next reading, and there is no reason to doubt that it will be, the resolve will surely be submitted to the people, for it requires only a majority vote in the senate.

WRECK ON THE NEW YORK CENTRAL. A Collision Between Two Freight Trains—Three Men Killed.

Rochester, Feb. 12.—An east-bound and a west-bound extra freight train came together in a head-end collision at the Macedon Swamp on the main line of the New York Central at 12:30 o'clock this morning, killing three men and injuring three others.

The cause of the accident, without doubt, lies with Thomas Walsh, the engineer of the east-bound train. He had orders to run his train on track 4. When a short distance east of Fairport because of an open switch, the east-bound train ran over on track 3, which is the west-bound track. Without inquiring into the cause for this change, or stopping to investigate, he continued to run on the third track for nearly two miles and a half. Owing to the snow the west-bound train was not seen until too close to avert the catastrophe.

The trains came together with a terrible crash at Macedon Swamp, four miles east of Fairport. Word was immediately sent to Rochester, and the wrecking crew left as soon as the engines could be steamed up. Superintendent Good and Drs. D. O. Tate and W. Wolf followed in a special train.

The wrecking gang immediately on the arrival began searching for the bodies. The men who were killed were: Frederick Horford of this city, fireman of the west-bound train; Thomas Walsh, engineer of the east-bound train, and Charles W. Wood of De Witt, fireman of the east-bound train.

The injured are: Wilbur L. Phillips of this city, engineer of the west-bound train, left elbow dislocated and otherwise painfully bruised; William T. Gaudens of this city, brakeman of the west-bound train, chin badly cut and bruised about the body; Daniel Wilson, Yrubaist about the body.

All of the injured were brought to this city on the relief train this morning and removed to the City hospital.
